Dearest Suzanne Oh how I miss our daily phone calls They too dwindled as your body weakened. I cherish the sweet memories of growing up with you that remains and in my heart sweet moments of laughter and tears. Thank you for sharing life with me. It was an honor and a priceless privelege to journey life together. The song of the wren, the chicks and hens, the red rose are gentle reminders that God comforts in our sorrow. Thanking God for you then and the sweet soul you are now Love and hugs Your little sister

My memories of Suzanne go back to when she and her sisters would visit her grandmother who was our next door neighbor. We would have fun catching lightning bugs in the summer, picking cherries from her grandmothers cherry tree, playing It tag in our back yards and Rover Rover and I can't forget Mother May I. All such nice memories of our friendship. Rest in peace Suzanne ❤️
