My Wife and I would like to express our sincerest condolences regarding the death of your Father and Grandfather. Please take comfort in the fact that he was a successful Businessman and Family Man. During the time that I worked for A. R, Scalise, in the 1980's, he always treated me with dignity and respect. My interactions with him were positive and constructive. This behavior enriched my life during those trying times of change and uncertainty. He extended a helping hand to many displaced Mon Valley Steel Workers by offering them opportunities where they could learn new skills and live with dignity. He was a truly virtuous man.
