1 am deeply saddened by the passing of my nephew, Vince. He was one of the smartest people I knew, always thoughtful and never short on something to say. Though he could be serious, he had a quiet sense of humor that made him special. I'll always remember him as a cute young boy, proudly serving in my wedding-and then trying, along with his brother Barry, to climb into our car to come along on our honeymoon. That memory still makes me smile. He will be greatly missed and always remembered. Love Aunt Mickey (Ute)
